PARTNER STRATEGY

For many businesses, creating and managing a network of business partners is not a choice, but a necessity that brings with it great benefits and challenging challenges. Companies are made up of people and are constantly changing and evolving. Relationships are the basis, if not taken care of, a fraying is natural. Therefore it is necessary:

- build a relationship of trust,
- cure it over time,
- renew it so that it does not lose interest.

Easy when resellers / distributors are few and far between; more complex when the number increases and / or the distances increase. It is no longer a question of renewing and reviving the relationship in the day-by-day, but of planning a growth together, capable of favoring business results in the medium-long term (without multiplying the complexity of the system).

FCO is therefore oriented towards the development of a Partner Strategy capable of expanding joint growth.
